A Bishop Criticizes Workers in the African M. E. Vineyard. CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—There was a lively time at last evening's session of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church conference. The church steward complained bitterly that many ministers were not turning a proper amount "I had been troubled for some time with an eruption of the skin which, till I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsa-burilla, defied all efforts to core. After taking two buttles of this medicine the eruption began to dissphera and with the third bottle it left me entirely."—

In the general fund, "although they don't fail to collect their own salaries." He named the named three pastors and an uproar followed. After much talk the presiding bishop. Louis, took the floor and scored to be forwarded to the secretary of state is to be completed except in special cases of duty for correcting returns on the delinquents. He added: "Unless you all collect and pay in your proportion to the general fund you will convert me to leave the courts should lightly, and in exthe general fund, you will compel me to leave some of you at home and get younger men who perhaps cannot preach as well to take your places. The difficulty with colored ministers is that they too often preach about what they do not understand. They take somebody's book and write from it a long sermon, and they stand up and read firstly, thirdly and twenty-secondly—[laughter and shouts of 'That's it']—and finally your long-winded sermon blows out of the window; your congregation is asleep; there is no interest in the church and you collect no money. You should not borrow too long-winded classical sermons. Leave that to the high-toned white ministers. Preach something that you understand and you will have no difficulty in having good congregations who will pay liberally to the church. But you think it all right so long as you find somebody to sit up and say 'Amen,' even if they do not understand what you are saying and you do not understand it yourself. If you cannot manage your churches you should go at something else. Get a mule and go to plowing." [Voice—"Now let a mule and go to plowing." [Voice-"Now you are talking," and uproarous laughter.]

FIRE IN PHILADELPHIA. Several Losses by the Burning of Storage Houses. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6 .- Fire broke out early this morning in the store house of Hoffman & Co., door, sash and blind manufacturers at 1414 Wood street, and before it was extinguished the entire building was destroyed and the flames spread to adjoining property, doing altogether damage to the amount of $60,000. The building in which the fire broke out was packed with inflammable material and the fire department could do nothing with it. When it was seen that the sash place must go the firemen di-rected all their energies to saving the adjoin-ing buildings. Despite their utmost efforts flames spread to Industrial a large three-story brick building, facing on Broad street and connecting in the rear with the Wood street properties and for a time it looked as if that place would also be completely gutted. After four hours' hard work the firemen got the fire under control. but not before $60,000 had gone up in smoke. Hoffman & Co.4s loss will be $30,000, fully covered by insurance. Industrial Hall, which is owned by R. S. Dobbins, was damaged by fire and water to the extent of $25,000; fully insured. The loss to the occupants of the hall, who were principally societies and lodges, and to the adjoining properties will not be above $5,000.

Commission. The Lafayette statue commission is quietly moving around town hunting for an available site upon which to place the counterteit presentment of the great France-American revolutionary soldier. It is almost certain that an agreement has been reached which will result in the erection of the statue in the reservation at the southeast corner of the Treasury Department building. This location would in many respects come up to the requirements of the commission, which desires to place the work of art in a conspicuous position. A proposition has been made to place the statue on the sward immediately in front of the Executive Mansion.

DECIDED TO BE INSANE.

The Testimony of W. Waters Convinces the Jury of His Mental Unsoundness. In the Circuit Court room this morning Sandiford W. Waters, a well-known builder of Georgetown, was before a jury summoned under a writ de lunatico inquirendo. This is the second inquiry as to Mr. Waters' sanity, the first, held last July, resulting after a four days' examination in a finding that he was sane. He became an inmate of St. Elizabeth's Hospital April 23, 1888, but was, at the instance of his wife, released May 9, 1888, he having in the meantime become much improved. The following January he went over to the hospital and asked to be admitted and they took him in. On July 22 last, after a four the glorious Nile. Nothing like this array of days' examination he was decided to be sane and he was released about 1 c'clock that day.

At 8 c'clock the next evening Mr. Waters went back to the hospital and saw Dr. Godding, to whom he said that he was not competent to look out for himself and asked to be held ber the day and date. Next Monday and for one week, with the usual matinees. in custody. He was thereupon taken in and there was an understanding between Dr. Godding and the patient that he should not ask to be discharged pending the confirmation of the finding of July last. The authorities, having no legal right to detain him, these new proceedings were instituted, and this morning assistant Attorney M. N. Richardson appeared for the District and Mr. A. A. Birney for the alleged lunatic.

THE TESTIMONY TODAY. Drs. Stack and Patterson testified to the facts of the insane delusions of Waters and said that in their opinion Waters was a fit subject for the hospital.

Officer Frank testified that some months since Waters came to him and stated that he dian could not manage his affairs and he wanted a ing. permit for the hospital, saying it was the only place for him and he gave it to him. He had as his talk he had no hesitancy in saying that he was insane and that he should be in the Thieves hospital.

Mr. Birney said the purpose was to arrive at the knowledge of the truth and he knew no better way of aiding the jury than to put Mr. Waters on the stand. MR. WATERS' OWN TESTIMONY SETTLES THE CASE.

Mr. Waters testified that he had been in business in Georgetown from 1864 to January, 1889. when he went to the hospital. Here he asked to be put under oath, and, taking the oath, continued. He said that in April, 1888, he was taken out of his house by Officer Riley and another person and taken to the station; remained all night and in the morning asked for breakfast and an officer gave him corn cakes. He remained till 2 o'clock. During the day several persons o'clock. During the day several persons called and asked if he knew them and he auswered them. His wife then came down and asked if he wanted to go to the hospital, which was the first he heard of the hospital, and Mr. Craig spoke up, saying they had a permit. He said that if he had to go they would have to talk to him, and they took him there. He then described his treatment there are whele then described his treatment there-one whole off on family affairs, in which he spoke of his brother having been stolen and of his difficulties in getting an education. "Just to think, he said, "of a state like Virginia passing a law imposing a fine of $5 for selling a spelling book." He then spoke of his business, asserted that the Knights of Labor had conspired against him and stood at his gate ready to kill him and that the pope had sent word to Cardinal McCloskey to have him crushed.

This was enough for the jury and on closing his testimony he was adjudged insane. Thanked Him for Sending Her to Jail. Judge Mills made one person happy today. That individual was a colored woman named Charlotte Becker, who is more than pleased because the government is going to feed her for a month free of charge, and she is satisfied with that treatment even if is in the county jail. Charlotte was in South Washington this morning quiet and peace able, but she objected to Special Officer Red-mond's making an arrest, and she assaulted him. "Ten dollars or thirfy days" was what Judge Mills said after hearing the testimony. "Thank you, Judge," shouted the woman, "I'm satisfied,

I can live and have a good time that long." A Fight on the Oyster Wharf. James Reeves and Wm. Faunce, who have business about the oyster wharf, had a fight there yesterday, and Reeves was arrested by Officer Treadwell. Each said that the other was drunk. Reeves called Faunce a bad name and the latter struck him. Judge Mills told Reeves that it served him right. Later in the day Reeves threw a large stone at Faunce, but fortunately did not injure him. For throwing the stone a sentence of sixty days was imposed.

Colored Candidate for Police Sergeant, It is understood that a prominent candidate for promotion to a sergeantcy of police is Officer McNeal, a colored man who has been on the force for sixteen years. McNeal has heretofore served in the first, second and third precincts and is now detailed with the chain gang. He is a man of gigantic build. He has so conducted imself as to make a good record as an officer. It is understood that Secretary Blaine has recommended his appointment as sergeant There is a question, notwithstanding the high character of the officer. as to what effect his appointment will have on the force.

AMUSEMENTS.

ALBATOR's-JANE COOKES.-Monday night ALEATOR'S—JANE COOMES.—Monday night next the well-known actrees, Miss Jane Coembs, will begin an engagement for one week in the following repertoire: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings and Wednesday matinee Miss Coombs will appear as Lady Dendlock and Hortense in a dramatization of Charles Dickens' "Bleak House." On Thursday and Friday evenings Miss Coombs will appear in "The Dressmaker" and at the Saturday matinee in "Camille." The supporting company is exin "Camille." The supporting company is ex-cellent and a splendid performance may be looked for.

Bijou—Lillian Lewis.—Lillian Lewis, who appears at the Bijou Theater next week in Lawrence Marsten's new play, "Credit Lorraine," has already thoroughly popularized herself with the theater-going public of this city. She is a woman of decided talents and secured critical as well as popular attention during her appearance last season. In "Credit Lorraine" she assumes the part of a woman who after having betrayed a man into the hands of the police betrayed a man into the hands of the police falls in love with him, sacrifices her fortune to save him from ruin and dies tragically. Miss Lewis' costumes are peculiarly rich. She wears lace valued at $125 per yard, pearl embroidery worth $250, a train of gold brilliants worth nearly $500 and cloaks itrimmed with ostrich plumes, white beaver, blue fox and Thibet lamb fur. The supporting company is a strong one.

KERNAN'S—CREOLE BUBLESQUE COMPANY.—
"The liquid dyes of southern skies swim lightly in their hopeful eyes," says the poetic Sam T.
Jack in his notices of the great Creole Burlesques who come to Kernan's next week, and it is a true bill. It is the only organization of the kind ever put on the road, and for beauty and attractiveness it is unequaled in all the infinite categories of the beautiful. There are fifts ladies in the combination from the land o the creoles and from the mighty mysteries o seen in Washington, and there will never be afforded such an opportunity again. Thieves Visit Commissioner Douglass' House.

There was a robbery committed on the premises of Commissioner Douglass last night, and the Commissioner was at police headquarters bright and early this morning to report the facts. The thieves, it is supposed, were small boys looking for anything they could pick up about the yard. They climbed over the back fence, with the assistance of some old steps, and secured two table cloths that had been used for a long time and an old skirt that belonged to one of the servants. The articles had been left on the grass to bleach. Detective Raff was sent to investigate the case, but the supposed youthful thieves left no evidence behind them.

Cruelly Beat Her Children. A neatly dressed colored woman, named week in the strong cell being tied with cords to the head and foot of the bed. He said that were neatly dressed and looked as though they his wife tried to force him to persuade his had been well cared for, but there of July, but all of the actual work of designuncle to make a will and he then branched was no doubt about the woman's brutality toward them, as several of her neighbors appeared as witnesses and described how she beat her young once with a piece of clothes-line and that the whippings were of frequent occurrence. The woman told Judge Mills that she though she had a right to correct her children and the judge told her that she had such right. He, however, told her that she must not correct them in a brutal manner. If the offense is repeated the judge said she would be deprived of her children. She told the judge that he had better take them now. The court, however, was not so inclined and im-posed a fine of $10 or thirty days in jail. While she is paying the penalty the police will see that the children are cared for.

ALEXANDRIA.

Reported for THE EVENING STAR. POLITICAL -Republican ward meetings will be held next week to elect delegates to the congressional district convention, which will meet at Manassas on the 17th instant. There is considerable interest in the convention, for its ection will determine whether Hon, Frank Hume will be an independent democratic candidate for Congress. If the convention should nominate a republican candidate it is understood that Mr. Hume will not consent to go into the field and divide the democratic vote, but if the convention shall decide to make no nomination it is understood that Mr. Hume will announce himself a candidate and give the voters of the district a choice between two

THE CANAL LINE RAILROAD. Mr. Mudd Offers a Bill Providing for a Tunnel East of Rock Creek.

Mr. Mudd has, by request, introduced in the House another proposition for the entrance of the Washington and Cumberland railroad into the District. This is the railroad chartered by the Maryland legislature along the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, and it will be remembered that the former bill providing for an entrance of the road into the District and reported to the Senate provides for a road along the line of the canal to and across Rock creek and by such route as the Commissioners shall decide to the corner of 17th and B streets, where the depot was to be situated.

The new bill looks to a tunnel and provides that the road shall enter the District along or adjacent to the Chesapeake and Ohio canal over to and across Rock creek, and thence by over to and across Rock creek, and thence by and through a tunnel, with proper approaches thereto from Rock creek to such point west of 20th street and north of New York avenue as may be approved by the Commissionera. The bill contains the old provisions granting to the road the right to acquire the title held by the C. and O. Canal Company to all its property and water and other rights lying in the District, and also the power to acquire land by purchase, lease or condemnation. The road is to submit to the Commissioners a map showing their route and time, which is to be approved before any steps are to be taken. approved before any steps are to be taken.
